The Mayor's Corner

Hope you are enjoying the summer and perhaps time off with family and friends and a bit of travel. There has been a lot of activity with SUEZ water to change and update the water supply to our homes. About 200 homes are affected and you will see marking on streets, grass and sidewalks. If you see marking on your grass or sidewalk, that doesn't mean that your house is affected, they are marking the path of the pipes and they are changing the pipes that have lead. The affected pipes should be changed and the SUEZ activity should be wrapped up by mid-summer. As soon as they are done, our road paving program will begin and should be completed before start of schools in September.

On Monday, July 15, we hosted Japan's Consul General Ambassador Kanji Yamanouchi and Assemblyman Robert Auth at our Montvale Borough Hall. We discussed mutual business opportunities with Japanese companies, our town and the region in general. We highlighted the importance of being a business-friendly town and how we as local government have to be nimble enough to match the fast pace that businesses go through so we can ensure they have what they need to succeed. We will be meeting with prospective Japanese businesses in October.

We also visited with Sharp Business USA and presented them with key to the city on behalf of the Council and the community. Sharp Electronics Chairman Tetsuji Kawamura and his management gave us a tour of the operation and discussed expansion opportunities in Montvale. Sharp employs over 300 employees and will be working with them to expand even further. They moved to Montvale two years ago and have been a great community partner.

Mayor Michael Ghassali

I was accompanied by our Councilmember Rose Curry, and members of our Economic Development Committee, John Ryan and Raffi Joukhadarian. Special thanks to Assemblyman Robert Auth for his leadership and for organizing this very productive and important meeting with the Ambassador. As always, I am available anytime to meet or visit and discuss our town's issues.

Montvale Police Department

Just a reminder that “National Night Out” will be Tuesday, August 6, 2019 from 6:00 pm until 8:00 pm, on Memorial Drive. Also, we were contacted by the owners of Exxon/Tigermarket on Chestnut Ridge Road. Martin and Brian Gallagher have graciously offered to provide free frozen treats to children that our Officers observe wearing helmets while bicycling, skateboarding, etc. Montvale Police Officers will be carrying cards to give to the children, which they can exchange for a free Slushie or milkshake at the Tigermarket at 142 Chestnut Ridge Road.

Chief Joseph Sanfilippo
